Reports Presented by Group Leaders

The luncheon meeting of the Andover League of Women Voters was held at the Wildwood Inn on Tuesday. The president, Mrs. Alan Blackmer, told of the efforts of the Leagues throughout the country in their endeavor to promote interest and action toward better personnel in government and quoted from a letter to the League's National president from President Leigh of Bennington college saying "you have done more in a year and a half than regular civil service reformers have done in twenty years in intelligent promotion of this needed reform." Among other activities in this endeavor a quarter of a million signatures were secured petitioning the political parties to abolish the spoils system and "find the man for the job, not the job for the man." Mrs. Blackmer extended a cordial invitation to all League members and friends of the League to join study groups and urged them not to be deterred because they had no previous knowledge of the subject, for such was the case of most members of study groups with the exception of the leader. Participation within the group chosen is voluntary and no one will be urged to take assignments they may feel unfitted or unable to carry through.

Mrs. Ralph Barnes, the leader of the study group on the Cooperative Movement which is meeting during November and December mentioned that one-half the trade of England and Scotland is through cooperatives and that they were especially flourishing in democratic countries, Denmark, Sweden, Norway and to some extent in France.

Miss Helen Chickering who will lead a group in the Theory and Practice of the Civil Service, meeting during January and February, spoke of the need for better personnel especially as one-tenth of the men and women employed in the United States are in government service. The group will study how the administrative work of the government might be made a career service and Massachusetts civil service laws and rules. Mrs. Joseph Burns, the leader of the study group meeting January and February, on the Legal Status of Married Women in Employment, spoke of needed changes in our immigration laws with reference to women, jury duty for women and said the group would study more especially legislation with reference to married teachers.

Mrs. John Barss, leader of the group on Economic Angles to Peace spoke of the previous approach in studying peace problems through the study of individual countries, control of munitions and neutrality and how the trend now seems to be through economic problems. This group will meet during March and April, studying tariffs and trade agreements.

Mrs. A. Graham Baldwin, leader for the study group on Legislation sponsored by the League and Technique for its support, said the group would attend a meeting of the general court, meet legislators and attend hearings on bills of importance.

Mrs. Arthur G. Rotch, former state legislative chairman for the League, read

Town Receives Federal Check

Town Treasurer Thaxter Eaton received this week a check of $29,313.03 from the P.W.A. as partial payment of the federal grant in connection with the erection of the new school. This is the third partial payment, the two previous payments totalling $91,520.37. The auditors are now busy on their final check-up, and when that is completed the final partial payment will come through.

Howell F. Shepard, chairman of the board of selectmen, notified Frederick C. Smith, chairman of the school board, at the end of last week to the effect that the buildings are now officially turned over to the school committee. The letter stated that the final settlement had been made with the architect.

Major Bowes Unit Here on Wednesday

Stunt Night to Be Held in Auditorium

Tonight is the night of all nights in the new school auditorium where Punchard's senior class is holding its "Stunt Night." The program which commences at eight o'clock contains many mysterious, thrilling and hilarious dramatizations by talented artists from all three classes in Punchard. The public is cordially invited to attend. A small admission fee of twenty-five cents will be charged. Tickets will be on sale at the door for those who have not already bought theirs.

One of Major Bowes' famous amateur units is coming to Andover next Wednesday for the annual firemen's ball to be held this year in the new auditorium and gymnasium. This is the first time any of the units has been in this section of the state, and a record-breaking crowd is expected not only from Andover but from surrounding communities as well.

In the afternoon a children's matinee will be presented at 3.15. There will be no school after noon on that day.

The evening performance will start at 8, and may last as long as two hours. Following the show the annual ball will be held on the gym floor. Roland Russell's orchestra will play.

Up to yesterday afternoon the committee had received no definite information as to the program to be presented by the unit, but it is safe to say that the usual variety presented in the radio and movie programs will prevail.

The firemen's committee includes: Fred L. Collins, William Collins, Herbert Brown, Robert Jackson, Henry Pomeroy and Edward Downs.

DONATIONS NEEDED

The Mothers club will pack their Thanksgiving baskets for needy families on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred L. Collins, 36 Summer street. All those having donations are requested to leave them at the Collins home by noon Tuesday.

Behind the Scenes

Two hours, or maybe a little more, you sat in your seats up at the auditorium Friday night to see the Adventurers' first play of the season. Perhaps you thought to yourself: "It must have taken these players quite a while to learn their parts." It did; the two hours of acting you saw was a very small proportion of the time they put into it, and it was an infinitesimal amount of time as compared to the time put in by all those who aided in the production though never setting a foot on the stage that night.

Hammers were pounding, paint brushes were swinging, yardsticks were measuring as the scenery-building for the Adventurers' first play of the season went on evening after evening. Those members of Andover's dramatic club interested in the very fascinating art of actual set-construction were learning, under the supervision of Eric Hulme all the intricacies of frame-building, canvas-covering, gluing, flame-proofing, sizing, painting of scenery, etc.

Among others assisting in scenery-production were Jesse West and Sumner Davis, who skillfully turned out fire-places, bookcases, doors and windows. Jesse was production manager. Honorable mention goes also to Frank Petty, Edward Weeks, Mrs. Margaret MacFarlin, May Elander Caroline Reed, and especially Mrs. Hulme, whose home was cluttered up from front to rear with the big "teaser," the curtain which framed the stage set.

Much interest was evinced in the model of the stage set for the play which was on display at the Andover News company. The making of this model depicting in miniature the mise-en-scene was but one other of the many interesting lines of endeavor of the members of this dramatic group. There are so many features to the presentation of dramatic art that all sorts of opportunities to indulge in favorite hobbies are afforded those not interested primarily in actual acting. Miss Dorothy Ruhl, Miss Marian MacDonald and

Church to Conduct Thanksgiving Sale

The annual Thanksgiving sale held by the Woman's Guild of Christ church, will take place on Tuesday in Christ church parish house.

Old fashioned costumes will be worn by those assisting at the various booths and the gay decorations will be in keeping with the season.

From 5 to 6.30 a hearty supper will be served by men of the parish under the direction of Mrs. Roger Peabody.

For the children there will be the big rocking horse Dapple Grey to ride, mysterious grabs, dolls, toys, candy and other attractions, the greatest being moving pictures in the upper hall under the charge of Mr. and Mrs. Stafford Lindsay. Mutt and Jeff, Pop-eye and Crazy Cat will all be on hand to amuse the youngsters at four o'clock.

For the Thanksgiving table there will be home-cooked food including pies, cakes, mince-meat, rolls, jellies, candy and doughnuts. Flowers, aprons, gifts, handkerchiefs, and plenty of white elephants will be waiting for purchasers.

After the supper an half hour of music may be enjoyed in the church and at 7.45 there will be an evening with Major Bolds and his entertainers.

John D. Little will be master of ceremonies, which fact alone promises a successful evening.

Mrs. Charles Hill and Mrs. Ralph Berry are co-chairmen of the sale which will open at 2 o'clock.

Tickets for the supper may be bought from Mrs. Roger Peabody and other members of the Guild.

Andrew Jackson made the perfecting of this miniature stage model their avocation.

BRIDGE SUPPER HELD

Supper was served to about 100 Wednesday evening at the bridge supper held by the Margaret Slattery class in the parish house. Prizes were awarded for the high score at each table. The committee included Mrs. Mildred Foster, Mrs. David MacDonald, Miss Grace Lake, Miss Jean Cuthbert, Miss Margaret Laurie, Miss Ethel Ackroyd, and Mrs. Dana Clark.

extracts from a book by Senator Smith of Illinois, who is also professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago, in which he said women were well fitted for legislative work because of their training in family relationships which foster the ability to observe human behavior and compromise when necessary. Mrs. Rotch said there was an unfortunate tendency to belittle the integrity and ability of legislative bodies but that she had found almost without exception our legislators had some views with which we could agree or some issue to cooperate on. She spoke of a League slogan, "knowledge through action" and said she felt that it was harmful for individuals or groups to become aroused upon an issue and do nothing about it and that study groups were very important, action by them carrying more weight. In mentioning bills supported in the State League program she spoke of the bill to provide a juvenile court for Suffolk county, only one district of the nine having a juvenile court at the present time. This would serve as an object throughout the state and help raise Massachusetts standards toward juvenile delinquents.

The department of Labor and Industries has been making a study of hazardous occupations and is expected to bring in a bill to prevent the labor of children from 14 to 18 in certain hazardous industries. There were forty thousand children employed in Massachusetts in 1929 and 1930 and they are gradually going back into industry since the N.R.A. was discontinued. The League will support a bill for raising the school age and also the child labor amendment if it is presented. The League is also interested in proportional representation and some modification of the veterans' preference act.

Bayard Tuckerman, newly elected governor counselor, said women especially should be interested in government and government expenditures since they have 65 percent of all savings accounts in their names and 80 percent of all life insurance in force at the present time. In describing

The council is divided into committees having charge of the maintenance of the state house, pardons, financial expenditures and payroll of the state and waterways, public lands and railroads. Mr. Tuckerman was of the opinion that honesty was the first requisite for the position and that any voter could find out that qualification by making inquiries in the town in which the candidate lived. He said it made little difference whether they were Republican or Democrat provided they were honest men.

Course on Theatre in Evening Groups

"Theatre and Movie Today" is the title of one of the new courses to be offered in the Evening Study Groups program at Phillips academy this winter, commencing early in January. This will be a course for anyone interested in the staging of plays. Given by an experienced director of plays, it will stress particularly such aspects of stage production as modern acting, stage designing, and lighting. A part of each hour will be devoted to informal readings and acting of scenes from popular modern plays. Certain hours will also be given over to a discussion of current movies,—their types, their strength and weakness in comparison with stage plays, their future possibilities, and the mechanics and art of photography. This course will be given by Allan T. Cook on Wednesdays at 7.30, beginning January 6.

In another of his popular courses in music appreciation, this one to be entitled "The Five Greatest Choral Compositions Ever Written," Dr. Carl F. Pfattheicher will discuss Handel's "Messiah," Bach's "Mass in B Minor," Bach's "Passion According to St. Matthew," Beethoven's "Missa Solemnis," and Brahms's "German Requiem," in his course at the academy this winter. As in the past, one of the chief features of the course will be its extensive use of the piano and electric phonograph for the purpose of illustration. This course will meet on Mondays at 8.30, beginning January 4.

The facilities of the studio of the Addison gallery will be available again this winter for those who wish to make use of them for drawing, etching, painting, or modeling with clay, in the course in "Studio Art" to be conducted by Bartlett H. Hayes, Jr., of the gallery staff. Previous experience will not be required for this course, and beginners with a desire to develop an enjoyable hobby are cordially invited to enroll. Mr. Hayes will give instruction and help to any who may ask for it. A model will be provided for those who wish to draw or paint portraits from life. Materials may be obtained in the studio at cost. This course, limited to twenty members, will meet Tuesdays from 7.30 to 9.30, beginning January 5.

Old Samaritan House, Originally Built as a Theological Seminary Infirmary, Was Home of Past Principals

Old Andover Houses

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was not written in Andover, but when this town doesn't do the best thing, it at least does second best. "The Key to Uncle Tom" was written here, not in Stowe house, but in the Samaritan house which like the Stowe house was one of the many academy buildings which were transplanted in the last decade.

It now stands at the head of School street, where the old Main Building used to be. Not so long ago it used to be across School street and across Main street about on the spot where the new Chapel now stands. From here Dr. Stearns with his vigorous step used to stride over every morning to conduct the chapel exercises in the old Stone chapel, thence going up to his offices in Brechin hall. The now headmaster-emeritus moved over to School street with the house, but when Dr. Fuess became headmaster, he chose to live at Phelps house, and an instructor, Horace M. Poynter, now enjoying a sabbatical year at Carmel, California, has been the occupant of the old Samaritan house since that time.

It was built in 1824 as an infirmary for the seminary. Among its occupants have been Dr. Elias Cornelius, Secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions; Professor Calvin E. Stowe and the woman who Lincoln is said to have said caused the Civil War; and Principal Cecil F. P. Bancroft.

(The material for the above article was compiled from a pamphlet on Old Andover Homes by Scott H. Paradise.)

Andover Guild Will Benefit by Money Contributed to Community Chest

A very great need in Andover's life is filled every winter by the Andover Guild where the children of the town gather afternoons and evenings to enjoy wholesome recreation under competent supervisors. Last winter there were some 500 children registered there, playing games, learning handcraft, reading books, keeping themselves busy in their little social center which the generosity of Andover residents provides for them.

This week the annual drive for funds is being conducted by the Community Chest, and out of the funds secured by the Chest about $3,000 is allotted to the Guild. Since the Community Chest plan was inaugurated several years ago, many of the residents of Andover have been disappointed because the town, instead of running its own campaign, was being linked up with the neighboring communities, but the important thing now is not how the money is being raised but what it is being raised for. Andover is in the Community Chest, and until there is a strong enough demand for a Chest of our own, it is up to us to support this drive to the utmost, because Andover is benefitting from it.

Last year a total of 1029 Andover residents were helped in some way by the funds raised by the Chest. Of this number 509 of course were the Guild youngsters, and in addition other organizations took care of homeless children, aged women, tubercular children, needy families. Both the Boy and Girl Scouts here have benefitted from the Chest funds. The Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and Y.M.H.A., although located in Lawrence, have a total of 281 Andover members, and these three organizations are supported by this week's drive.

If Andover were conducting its own drive, most of us would be very glad to help out financially. The town however is not conducting its own drive, but the need for financial aid still exists with all these organizations which are helping Andover, and that is why we should lend our support just as actively as if the whole drive were concentrated here in town. A number of our prominent citizens are working for the Chest this week; make their task easy by receiving them in a friendly spirit and giving as much as you feel you can afford.

Siftings

The thing that we don't like about this 20 degrees above weather is that it's 40 degrees above the 20 below that it'll be later in the year.

Let's do our part in the Community Chest expansion.

We're going to get terribly mixed up two years from now if the Republican Hurley that beat the Democratic Hurley to succeed state treasurer Hurley runs against Governor-elect Hurley.

The Prince of Wales must also have been the Prince of Wallie's.

Town's Oldest Man Dies in 92nd Year

Joseph Thompson, the oldest man in Andover, passed away early Tuesday morning at his home, 283 South Main street. Born in Blackburn, England, 92 years ago, he came to this country shortly after the Civil War and resided in Lawrence for some time before moving here over 30 years ago.

Mr. Thompson retired about 15 years ago from his work as a machinist in Lawrence. He was the oldest member of United Brothers lodge, I.O.O.F. of Lawrence.

He leaves three daughters, Miss Elizabeth Thompson of South Main street; Mrs. H. T. Woods of Derry, N. H., and Mrs. L. W. Lord of Florida; and a son, Henry J. Thompson of Malden.

Funeral services were held at 2.30 this afternoon.

Obituaries

Mrs. Alice Purington Holt

Mrs. Alice Purington Holt passed away on Saturday afternoon at the New England Hospital for Women and Children in Boston.

Mrs. Holt was the wife of the late John Voorhis Holt who died last February. Since that time Mrs. Holt had been in ill health, but her unexpected passing on Saturday came as a great shock to her family and friends.

The late Mrs. Holt was born in Bethel, Maine, on August 4, 1875, and had lived in Andover since her marriage to Mr. Holt in 1901. She graduated from Abbot academy in 1895. Her life was one of great activity and her masterful ability in organization and leadership led her into broad fields of service, and all who were associated with her in her local and statewide activities will keenly miss her leadership.

Mrs. Holt was a member of the November club, one of the first presidents of the Tuesday club, and for over twenty-five years a loyal member.

She was a director of the Andover Historical society, and her connection with this organization is marked by her chairmanship of the Massachusetts Tercentenary celebration in Andover, which will long be remembered as one of the outstanding town events.

Mrs. Holt was a member of the South church, and her work in connection with the missionary interests of the church made her known throughout the state. She was chairman of the missionary work of the church for over ten years and initiated the Inter-church Missionary Rally Day in 1920, an activity that is still a part of the Community church life of the town. From the Missionary committee work of the church, has emerged a group called the Awli club of which Mrs. Holt was a devoted member.

Mrs. Holt was also a member of the City Mission of Boston, a trustee of Camp Andover, a director of the Department of Women's work of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference, and at the time of her death a member of the program committee of the conference. She was president of the former Andover and Woburn Alliance, chairman and instrumental in forming the President's Conference composed of the workers of the church missionary societies throughout the state, an organization of lasting influence in Congregational church life. She had great charm and ability as a presiding officer, and the organizations formed under her leadership will go on as a monument to her ability to lead and to guide others to a sense of responsibility and achievement.

Funeral services were held at her late home on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Frederick B. Noss of the South church and the Rev. Ralph H. Rowe of the Boston City Missionary society officiating.

She leaves a son, Reginald Woodbury Holt of Manchester, her mother, Mrs. J. U. Purington of Andover, a sister, Miss Belle Purington of Andover; and a brother, Harry W. Purington of Beverly.

Edward G. Hennrikus

Edward George Hennrikus, father of Mrs. Arthur Colbath of Woburn street, passed away last Wednesday at the Newton hospital after contracting pneumonia.

Although a life-long resident of Newton Center, where he was born April 22, 1861, he was well known in Ballardvale having spent part of the summer months here since retiring on pension from the Newton Fire Department ten years ago after a faithful service of thirty-eight years. He was a member of the Elks.

He is survived by two daughters and three sons, Mrs. Arthur Colbath of Ballardvale, Mrs. James Donahoe of Wellesley, John Hennrikus of Springfield and Charles and George Hennrikus of Newton center.

Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery in West Roxbury.

Herbert M. Wright

Herbert Manley Wright died very suddenly at his home 34 Park street, early Thursday morning. He was born in Andover, June 22, 1873, the son of the late Harlan P. and Maria (Taylor) Wright. Previous to his returning to Andover a few years ago, he had been engaged in business in Bridgeport, Conn., and in New York. He was chairman of the Pumps pond committee of which he had been an active member for years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emily S. Wright; a daughter, Hazel and two brothers, Howard H. P. Wright of Winchester and Wendell T. Wright of Medford.

Private funeral services will be held at his late home by the Rev. Frederick B. Noss, Saturday afternoon at 2.30.

A V I S Conducts Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Andover Village Improvement society held recently the following were elected trustees: Mrs. Charles E. Abbott, Henry A. Bodwell, Mrs. Arthur T. Boutwell, Frederic S. Boutwell, Frank A. Buttrick, Mrs. Frank T. Carlton, Fred E. Cheever, Miss Helen Eaton, Perley F. Gilbert, Miss Bessie P. Goldsmith, Chester W. Holland, Mrs. George M. R. Holmes, Henry T. Hopper, Horace M. Poynter, and Mrs. Joseph A. Rand.

The treasurer reported $79.70 cash on hand, with invested funds plus interest $8,692.45.

The clerk presented the following report:

This has been an uneventful year for the Andover Village Improvement society.

To be sure we did become excited over the new filling station at the corner of Main and Chestnut streets. No one had seen the notice in the Townsman that an oil company was asking permission to erect a filling station there. Too late we learned of the hearing and there being no protest the selectmen granted the permit. After all our mental distress we must concede that the Gulf Oil company is erecting a good looking plant, as dignified in appearance as a filling station can be, and architecturally conforming with the neighboring buildings.

We did protest the cutting of the town trees.

The committees have functioned as usual, except that no work has been done, this year, at Indian Ridge and only weed cutting at Roger's Dell.

The three hemlocks planted at the Boulders have failed to grow. Herbert Chase, the donor, says he will replace them next spring. We had to replace three pines lost at the Hussey plot in Shawsheen.

The vines planted a few years ago, above the wall on Main street, opposite the old Tyer Rubber company factory—have made good growth and are beginning to droop over, and show from the street.

Horace M. Poynter who has served well as president for the past seven years is having his sabbatical year and has resigned from office. And Miss Goldsmith, who has spent many days superintending laborers and working herself on the Indian Ridge Reservation has resigned from the chairmanship of that committee.

But as one steps out another steps in and the work goes on.

The Andover Village Improvement Society still carries on.

BLANCHE W. CARLTON, Clerk

Abbot Academy Notes

Gives Lecture on Ireland Beautiful

Branson DeCou and his Dream Pictures furnished a very interesting program for the members of the November club on Monday afternoon, November 16. The subject of the lecture was "Ireland Beautiful" and pictures were shown of all parts of Ireland and of both country and town districts. Mr. DeCou is always a popular lecturer and his informal talk and beautifully colored pictures delighted a large group of members and guests.

The next meeting of the Art Department will be at the home of Mrs. Henry Bodwell on Monday, November 23 at three o'clock.

The next meeting of the Dramatic Department will be held at the home of Miss Bessie Goldsmith on Friday, November 20.

Adventurers Open 1936-37 Season

"The First Mrs. Fraser," the Adventurers' first production of the 1936-37 season, was presented last Friday evening in the new auditorium before an audience made enthusiastic by the excellent portrayals of the characters of St. John Ervine's amusing comedy.

Mrs. Katharine Clay Sawyer, playing the lead, won the audience from the start, and her easy, gracious manner went far toward assuring the play's success. In the male lead was Geoffrey Nicoll, who proved that he could act as well as r-r-roll the Scotch words off his tongue.

Portraying the other minor roles to perfection were Richard Gummere, Jr., Mrs. Emma G. Carter, Marshall Custer, Albert Swenson, Sheila Westgate and Ebba Nordenstierna. Mrs. Mervin E. Stevens, wife of the director, was the prompter.

The Young Married Group of the Free church will meet this evening with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Black of 5 Walnut avenue.

THE New Ford V-8 for 1937 is the most beautiful Ford car ever offered. It is built in only one size—one standard of roomy comfort and modern appearance. But you may have either the improved 85-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum performance—or the new 60-horsepower V-8 engine for maximum economy. The smaller engine makes possible a lighter car—lower operating costs—and a lower price.

When you drive the 1937 Ford with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine, you are master of a power plant that gives everything you can possibly demand in speed and acceleration. Today, improved carburetion enables it to deliver its thrilling performance with unusually low gasoline consumption.

The new 60-horsepower V-type 8-cylinder engine delivers V-8 smoothness and quietness—even at speeds up to 70 miles an hour—with gasoline mileage so high that it creates an entirely new standard of economy in modern motor car operation.

We invite you to see this new Ford car, and arrange to drive one equipped with the engine that fits your needs.

EDITORIAL—THE VALUE OF BOOKS

By WARREN L. RICHARDSON

Books are one of the greatest pathways leading on to the highway of learning, and education. New fields of science and worlds of inventions lay at our feet by merely turning the pages of some great volume. New thoughts and ideas are ours by reading any of our good books, whether we buy them, borrow them, or beg them.

The greatest leaders in the world today, and of yesterday, appreciated the value of books. One outstanding example was Abraham Lincoln. Others were Horace Greeley, Theodore Roosevelt, and many more.

The value of books can not be overestimated. Just think what would the world be like if there were no books. There would be no schools, like that of ours, no great doctors, lawyers and scientists. Little but illiteracy would be predominant throughout the great nations of the world, today. In fact, they would not be great nations if there were no books.

This week was Book Week, November 16th to 20th, and many of the nations of the world observed it as such. Practically all of the school had some assembly or program to celebrate this week.

If you should cast a boy away on an island with enough to live on for many years, and gave him a selected number of books, but no education except that of knowing how to read, when you brought him back it is fairly possible that he would have a good education.

This is a very crude example, but it is one of the countless ways of showing the value of books. Do your part! Read a book for Book Week!

COMMENDATION CARDS AWARDED TO STUDENTS

Though student participation in class work and school administration is considered a part of "the democratic way" in the Andover junior high school, students and faculty alike realize that study—careful concentration—for the major part of the school day, on the curriculum subjects, is the first essential of our school task.

Present Selectman, Roy E. Hardy, Was on First Soccer Team Phillips Academy Ever Had

If you're an Abbott in Andover, you're genealogically important; if you're a Bailey, you're genealogically important; if you're a Hardy, you're genealogically important—and if you're all three, well, they probably could write the history of your ancestors and it would serve as a history of Andover.

Roy Hardy, our newest selectman, is all three. There are Baileys, Abbotts and Hardys scattered all over the limbs, branches and twigs of Roy's family tree. His mother was Harriet R. Abbott and his father was Lewis T. Hardy, chief of the Andover fire department for 25 years and chairman of the Board of Public Works.

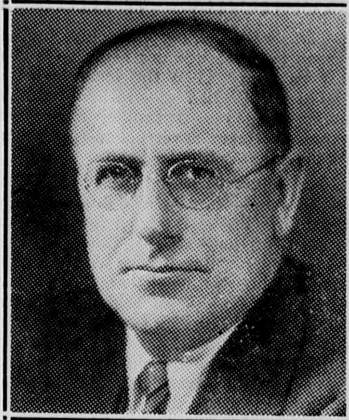

Roy was born here in Andover on August 30, 1892, down at 17 Maple avenue, or what was then 17 Maple avenue—they've changed the numbers since. He attended John Dove, Stowe, Punchard, and the academy. The old Townsmen which we peruse for our twenty-five years ago column every week had given us a little information on Roy's scholastic career, for his name appeared very often on the academy honor roll and on lists of prizes. But we didn't know much about his athletic record, and so we asked him.

Captain at Punchard

"It's not anything like George Dane's," he replied. The salient points we learned from the ensuing conversation were: (1) he was captain of the Punchard baseball team, which he felt was a dubious honor since there were only three seniors in the class to pick a captain from; (2) in his junior year he was the only substitute on the football team, all the other substitutes having quit because they were not on the first team; (3) he was on the first soccer team Phillips academy ever had. In addition he was captain of the Punchard hockey team—"hockey," not "hookey."

In Roy's junior year there were enough boys out for two full football teams at the start of the year, but those were the days when subs were not content to just sit on the bench and pine for a chance to go in there and die for Alma Mater. Ten out of the eleven Punchard subs that year let the bench get very, very cold; Roy was the only one left to warm it. Methuen defeated them that year 9-0 (those were the days before that Lovely feller hit town), and in order to make up a full team, the coach had to use two youngsters who never had played football.

Up on the Hill Bill Haddon was the coach of that first soccer team, and Roy was a halfback. They only played a few games because the team was not picked until well along in the fall from the class teams. On the Harvard fresh team that Roy played against there was a student named Hamilton Fish, who as a Republican told the Republicans a thing or two the day after the election this year.

From the academy Roy went on down to M. I. T., where he received his degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. Tech was never very much for athletics except for track and crew—it's a funny place in that they take their education quite seriously there. And Roy didn't do much in athletics either, for you can't commute from here to Boston every day and devote much time to anything else but studies. Commuting then was much the same as now and as it probably always will be for students; a train's a good place to get together and cram for the coming day's lessons. Roy and his classmates used to go in on the local rather than the express because it gave them more time for getting ready for the day's work.

Roy was the man who built the Central bridge in Lawrence—theoretically, that is. His thesis in his final year was a plan for a reinforced concrete bridge to span the Merrimack between the Duck and Falls bridge—"they didn't use it," he added.

The post-school years of Roy's life have been divided between steel and dance-halls. He worked for the town the summer after he graduated, and then in the early winter he started working for the Trucon Steel company, the largest steel sash company in the country. He was with this firm for 14 years.

In the fall of 1929 Roy went into the recreational business, and it was on September 26, 1929, that he opened Recreation Ballroom in Lawrence. He remembers the date very well because it was on the same day that his youngest daughter, Virginia, arrived. The following

June he purchased the Balmoral Spa which operates the Balmoral Gardens, Andover's outdoor dance floor.

On January 19, 1918, he married Helen E. Knowles, and they have had three children: Ruth, August 17, 1920; Judith, August 1, 1923; and Virginia.

And maybe now he's starting a new career; office-holding. Last March he received a Rooseveltian vote for selectman, this being his first elective office. He had served for some time on the town planning board, and was one of the men instrumental in bringing about the establishment of the zoning law.

He was treasurer of the South church for ten years, and he is a past master of St. Matthew's lodge. One of his primary interests has been the Guild, and this week he is busily engaged as chairman of the Andover section of the Community Chest drive which supports the Guild.

Roll-Call Supper Held at Church

One of the best attendances in recent years was present Wednesday night at the annual roll-call supper of the Baptist church. Rev. Francis H. Rose, a science teacher in the Central Philippine college, spoke on Missions.

Supper was served by the social committee, assisted by the young ladies of the church.

Johnson's Win over Manning Gives North Andover Team Edge

Punchard high will wind up its season on Thanksgiving day against Johnson high of North Andover at the local playstead. Beaten only twice in a hard nine-game schedule the visiting team is conceded a slight edge over the local eleven. Johnson is resting tomorrow while Punchard meets Reading, one of the two teams to defeat the North Andoverites.

Melrose defeated Johnson in the opener 6-0. The following week Danvers went down 13-0 at the hands of the Johnson team. This team Punchard defeated only 6-0. Hudson was beaten 21-18. Both Johnson and Punchard had a 13-point lead over Methuen, Johnson winning 13-0 and Punchard 19-6. After the Reading game, Johnson defeated in order: Chelmsford 19-2; Brooks 14-7; Woodbury 33-0; and Manning 15-0. The last game gives Johnson the edge in comparative scores, for Manning defeated Punchard 6-0.

Sullivan and the two Roberts brothers are again the outstanding scorers in the North Andover backfield. Coach Cavalieri will not decide until Monday just who he will start in his line-up.

Locals Swamp Lowell Soccer Team, 6-0

The Andover soccer team won an easy game Sunday afternoon on the local playstead when they defeated the Scott St. Anthony team of Lowell by a score of 6-0. At no time during the game did the visiting team have a chance. Campbell was in his best form and shortly after the game had started he had chalked up two goals and before half time had added another. McGrath landed two between the uprights before half time.

During the second half, Densevitch and Barclay exchanged positions and during this period Densevitch came through with the final goal giving the locals an easy win.

Andover A. A. to End Season Here

The Andover A.A. football team will play their last game at the Playstead Sunday with the I.Y.M.A. team of Haverhill. This game will end the successful season of the Andover Club. The team is now in fine shape and the local fans will be treated to an excellent game Sunday. The Haverhill team has had a successful season and should make a very good final game. Captain Hilton, William Tammany, Pete O'Connor and William Skea will probably start in the Andover backfield, with Morrissey and Deyermund at the ends. The rest of the line with Waldie at center, Winters and Barton guards, and Winkley and Elder tackles will probably start the game. The Andover line has played a great defensive game all season.

Academy Winds Up Unbeaten Season

The best Phillips academy football season in three decades came to a close last Saturday when the local team defeated Exeter 12-7 at Brothers field. Its unscored-on record broken during the game, the team nevertheless kept intact its unbeaten and untied slate.

Ray Anderson scored early in the game to put Andover in the lead 6-0, but in the third period the Andover goalline was crossed for the first time this year when after being penalized twice within its own ten-yard line the local team finally gave way before the Exeter onslaught. A successful placement kick for the point after gave Exeter the lead.

In the final period a shoestring catch of a forward pass which had bounced off an Exeter player by Al Hearne, playing his first year of football, gave Andover the ball on Exeter's six. Two plays later Hovey Seymour had scored the winning touchdown. Exeter then struck terror to the Andover stands when it launched a long march by the air route down the field, with an Andover back finally intercepting a pass to end the threat. Shortly playing from their own twenty-yard line Exeter threw four consecutive futilely glorious passes to lose the ball on downs in a desperate attempt to break away. The game ended a minute later.

Four Andover boys won their letters. They were Horace Poynter, Jr., John N. Cole, 2nd, Oswald Tower, Jr., and Carl Lindsay, Jr.

Punchard Has Slight Edge Over Reading

Punchard high, with an early season record that gives it a slight edge over its opponent, plays a postponed game with Reading high tomorrow at Reading. Games with Manning high and Methuen provide the only basis of comparison between the two elevens. The Ipswich aggregation defeated both Punchard and Reading 6-0, but Punchard defeated Methuen 19-6 and Reading was defeated by Methuen 6-0, with the Readingites claiming that raw officiating in the neighboring community was responsible in part for the defeat.

The Reading team has won three, lost four. It won the opener 2 to 0 from Hamilton, meeting Manning the following week. Johnson high, Punchard's only remaining opponent, was beaten by Reading 7-0, with Lexington scoring a 12-2 win the next week. Since the Methuen game, Reading has defeated Wilmington 31-7 and lost to Wakefield 18-0.

ANDOVER LOSES 9-7

Les Hilton's arm accounted for a touchdown and a point after in the Wareham-Andover A. A. game Saturday, but Andover lost 9-7. Hilton tossed to Tammany for the touchdown and to Deyermund for the conversion.

Opening New Shop on Next Tuesday

Mrs. Ellen Elizabeth French, who during her residence at the old Abbot tavern a few years ago remodelled the historic structure at the time of the Historical society's annual meeting held there, is planning to open the Yankee Pine Shoppe on Tuesday at the rear of the Fuller apartments, 78 Main street. Mrs. French has been making ready for her opening since late in the summer, spending considerable time in selecting unusual pieces at proper prices, and that her work has been fruitful will be evident to the many people expected at the opening. Many of the gift articles are imported.

Mrs. French is in a newly-constructed addition to the apartments, and she has turned over entirely two rooms for her gift shop, thus providing a homey atmosphere for the fine stock she has to display. She is specializing in pine reproductions of furniture, and she also has a large stock of unusual gifts of all kinds.

Mrs. French has lived in Andover since May, 1934. She is a native of Newburyport, and her great grandfather, James Follansbee, was captain of a sailing vessel out of Newburyport bringing merchandise into the seaport towns. She has a son, Atty. Dana French, now practicing in Newburyport.

Herbert C. Bridges, interior decorator, will assist Mrs. French in her new venture.

On the opening day tea will be served without charge at four.

Mark Book Week at Junior Library

This week the Junior Room joined numerous other libraries in observing Book Week, the national theme this year being "Books to grow on; the modern world for young readers."

Because of the crowded conditions in the room it was thought best to ask that much of the observance be concentrated in the schools, and the library assist the teachers. The simple celebration in the Junior Room consists of displays, stressing books on modern wonders; and the sending to all grades from the sixth to the ninth, a "Do you know?" questionnaire. This is to enable the librarian to study the children's reading, and to provide a reading guide for the future. The questions are based upon characters, sayings, and incidents in well known books. The children who are unable to answer the questions will be given an opportunity to read the books with which they are unfamiliar. A second test will be given at the end of the year. By that time it is hoped that every child will be acquainted with the classical material indicated for his grade. On Saturday morning the weekly story hour will be held at ten o'clock.

Bronchial Coughs

Get Rid of Them
This Quick Easy Way

Get a small bottle of BUCKLEY'S MIXTURE (triple acting) at any good drug store—take 2 or 3 doses before you go to bed tonight—then if that tough old persistent cough isn't relieved—if you do not sleep like a top all night long—get your money back—it acts like a flash—often one sip checks an ordinary cough.

In the Senior Room there is an exhibit of beautifully illustrated copies of some of the best known children's books, which are recommended for purchase for a home library.

Residents to Inspect Richardson School Shawsheen Village

A meeting of the board of directors of the Shawsheen Village Community association was held Tuesday evening in the office of F. M. and T. E. Andrew in the Administration building. Thomas Hendrick, the president, conducted the meeting, and Mrs. L. C. Conner, the secretary, read reports of past meetings.

The most important matter discussed was the feasibility of putting the Richardson school in commission for a community center. Mr. Hendrick, Lewis Smith, and Ralph W. Emerson visited the school last Sunday and were surprised to find such a substantial building. The building would have been in much better shape today than it is, but after the school was closed about ten or eleven years ago, some children got into the building and left a sky-light open, and the damage, by rain, etc., which that caused, was discovered too late.

Several men at the meeting agreed to go up to the school Thursday afternoon and do whatever has to be done to make the place presentable for Saturday, at which time the public is invited to come and see this old school in order to judge for themselves what they think can be done to foster community activities in that place.

William Trow gave some very interesting and some valuable Frye village and Shawsheen Meadows history (all land from here down to what is now South Lawrence was called by the latter name).

About the earliest records give the first school as 1828, but there may have been an earlier one.

P.T.A. BRIDGE SUCCESSFUL

The bridge party given by the Shawsheen P.T.A. last Friday was a financial success and an enjoyable affair. There were 21 tables of bridge, each having a table prize.

During the evening the following young ladies sold candy: Dorothy Dean, Barbara Lindsay, Charlotte Boves, and Jean Schubert.

Ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Horace Thomas of Morton street was the winner of a cake.

P T A Discusses Health Program

The health program in the schools was the subject of discussion at the Andover P.T.A. meeting held in the junior high music room Wednesday evening. Rev. A. Graham Baldwin conducted the forum. Dr. W. Dacre Walker explained the duties of the Board of Health, Miss Edith Moreton, school nurse, explained her work in the schools, Miss Frances Collins emphasized the mental attitude toward health and Miss Catherine Barrett told of the health problems in the elementary schools.

President Mrs. E. Dean Walen presided at the business session. Mrs. James Toohey spoke for the nursing committee of the Red Cross, and it was voted that the P.T.A. contribute to this fund. It was also voted that parents donate books for the children's libraries in the various rooms.

Mr. Blanchard's room won the attendance banner. Refreshments were served by the hostess committee, with Mrs. J. Everett Collins chairman.
